(10 × 2 = 20)

Like a huge Python, winding round and round

The rugged trunk, indented deep with scars

Up to its very summit near the stars,

A creeper climbs, in whose embraces bound

No other tree could live. But gallantly

The giant wears the scarf, and flowers are hung

In crimson clusters all the boughs among,

Whereon all day are gathered bird and bee ;

And oft nights the garden overflows

With one sweet song that seems to have no close,

Sung darkling from our tree, while men repose.

When first my casement is wide open thrown

At dawn, my eyes delighted on it rest ;

Sometimes, and most in winter, on its crest

A grey baboon sits statue - like alone

Watching the sunrise ; while on lower boughs

His puny offspring leap about and play ;

And far and near kokilas hail the day ;

And to their pastures wend our sleepy cows ;

And in the shadow, on the broad tank cast

By that hoar tree, so beautiful and vast,

The water-lilies spring, like snow enmassed.

(a) Who is the author of the poem ‘‘Our Casuarina Tree ? ’’

(b) How is the creeper described in the first stanza ?

(c) How are the strength and the beauty of the Casuarina Tree described ?

(d) What does "Scarf and giant" stand for ?

Of splendid vassalage, but rather seek.

Our own good from ourselves, and from our own

Live to ourselves, though in this vast recess.

Free and to none accountable, preferring

Hard liberty before the easy yoke of servile pump. Our greatness will appear

Then most conspicuous, when great things of small,

Useful of hurtful, prosperous of adverse

We can create, and in what place so e'er

Thrive under evil, and work ease out of pain

Through labour and endurance.

At every pore with instant fires.

Now let us sport us while we may,

And like amorous birds of prey,

Rather at once our time devour

Than languish in his slow-chapped power.

Let us roll all our strength and all

Our sweetness up into one ball,

And tear our pleasures with rough strife

Thorough the iron gates of life :

Thus, though we cannot make our sun

Stand still, yet we will make him run.

9. Read the following passage and answer the question that follow : (5 × 2 = 10)

Most of the people, who appear in history books, are great conquerors and generals. Strangely enough, the people, who really helped civilisation forward, are often not mentioned at all. We do not know who first made the boat or calculated the length of the year but we know about the killers and destroyers. We raise status for the simply because they fought bravely. But even animals fight. So do savages. To fight is not to be civilised. Moreover, there are other ways of settling quarrels among men and nations. So really civilised people have been those who have brought peace and happiness to mankind. They have been prophets, saints, doctors, inventors and discoverers. They have been truly great since instead of inflicting pain and hardships upon humanity, they have healed their wounds. Instead of killing, they have saved human lives. They are really civilised and deserve our a admiration and respect.

Now it is almost night, from the bronzey soft sky jugfull after jugfull of pure white liquid fire,bright white tipples over and spills down,
and is gone.
and gold-bronze flutters beat through the thick upper air.
And as the electric liquid pours out, sometimes.
a still brighter white snake wriggles among it, spilled and tumbling wriggling down the sky :
and then the heavens cackle with uncouth sounds.
And the rain won't come, the rain refuses to come !
This is the electricity that man is supposed to havemastered
Chained, subjugated to his own use !
Supposed to !
