About the National Seminar

Unity in diversity is the hallmark of India's philosophical history and polity which has drawn wide accolades among the comity of nations in the International arena. The sub-continent with its massive and varied culture and lingual factors apart from religions and other divisive features is successfully surviving in the south Asian region through the evolving democratic governance. Almost all of its neighbors are facing colossal blocks in terms of economy and instable polity. That said, India was fetched with supreme head status in G20.This prestigious status of India opens an admirable new vistas for India to play a greater role in the International order. Moreover a majority of countries voted for non-permanent membership in the UNO Security Council in the recent past. India gained 184 votes in the United Nations to become a non permanent member. Germany welcomed India to g7 summit in which India is not at all a member. "Operation Ganga" was another initiative by which students and people wear evacuated from Ukraine and Russia which was widely acclaimed at internal and external level.The policy of "Asia Pivot" framed by USA and the role of India in QUAD is also well appreciated by littoral nations who are affected by China in South China Sea.

The recent crisis in Ukraine and the consequent order of Western and European countries to India is one such example. Economic sanctions were imposed on Russia and also insisted India by western powers not to import oil from Russia. India played "strategic autonomy" card in order to show itself as an independent decision maker in the area of foreign policy and relations. Albeit of opposition and hue and cry leveled against Russia, India was stubborn in its ideal of strategic autonomy.

In April 2022, president of European commission visited India for Raisina dialogue. In the aftermath, prime minister Modi visited Germany, Denmark and France to boost the relations with European partners. It is also an apt occasion for India to standardize it's ideas regarding Russia and Ukraine crisis. India considered 2022 as the year of multilateralism and regional stability by which it will have a good space and forum to establish itself as a moral power among the comity of nations. When all its neighbors like Afghanistan, Sri Lanka, Pakistan, Nepal, and Bangladesh were affected with varied issues internally, India as the largest democracy is sustaining and strengthening its ideal and practice in the world forum maintaining cordial relations with all the Nations. Non alignment movement (NAM) has been changed into Multi- alignment by which more Nations extend good will support to India. Apart from idealistic principles India has also proved its indigenousness in its education, cinema, literature, cultural practices which is being considered as unique in all aspects of a nation-state. USA placed India in "extremely high" on its list of allies. The above stated premises on the basis of facts proved India as a nation of soft power and idealistic, which may become a moral power instead of superpower dreamt by Kalam former president cum statesman of this great country.

In this junction this two days national seminar on "INDIA AS AN IDEAL POWER: ROLE IN G20 UNO AND INTERNATIONAL ORDER" intends to analyze the futuristic role of India as an ideal power through academic deliberations and interactions which may mould the policies of India towards its neighbors and major nations in the international system. The research articles from various quarters are also to be published in two volumes so as to make orientation to the upcoming generation.
